

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Acting on information provided by an anonymous caller, deputies from the Clinton County Sheriff's Office Monday arrested two North Country men suspected of vandalizing athletic fields at a local school.

Thomas Bouvia Jr., 23, of Ellenburg Center, New York and Nicholas Whitney, 20, of Redford New York are accused of using a vehicle to vandalize the athletic fields at Northern Adirondack Central School sometime on Friday November 12, 2010, causing more than one-thousand-dollars worth of damage.

Bouvia and Whitney were each charged with 2nd degree felony criminal mischief.

Deputies investigating the reported vandalism asked the public for their help through a newspaper article in the local paper and that's when the anonymous tip came forward and deputies made their arrests.

Bouvia and Whitney were both issued appearance tickets and will appear in Ellenburg Town Court on December 2, 2010 to face the charges.

Sheriff Favro would like to thank the public for their help in bringing information forward that led to the arrests made in this case.
